2007-2008 Annual Report

Law Foundation of Nova Scotia

REPORT FROM THE CHAIR

Law Foundation grants reached a new high for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2008, thanks to more than $4,000,000 in revenue from interest on lawyers' trust accounts.

The Board approved 49 grants totaling $3.1 million – the highest level of grant making in the Foundation's history and an increase of 41% over last year. This was due primarily to increased trust account revenue resulting from the prime rate of interest, which averaged 6% from April 2007 until March 2008.

Approximately 62% of the grants awarded between April 1, 2007 and March 31, 2008 will support ongoing programs that offer information, education and assistance to Nova Scotians who need help with everyday legal issues or with navigating the justice system. For example, the Antigonish Women's Resource Centre works with women and the community to address legal issues related to poverty and violence. The King's County Seniors' Safety Program provides safety and security information to seniors and helps with access to legal information and law enforcement officials. The Pro Bono Students Association provides invaluable legal assistance to non-profit organizations - last year alone, the Pro Bono Students contributed over 10,000 hours of service to the community.

Programs that offer legal assistance to people living with disabilities address more specific needs within the legal system, as do those that concentrate on youth crime in the province. It was exciting to learn that two programs aimed at youth, which started as pilot projects with Law Foundation grants, were recently chosen by the provincial government to receive funding under the province's new crime prevention strategy.

Law Foundation funding also promotes excellence within the profession. For the past four years, the Law Reform Commission has worked with the Judges of the Supreme Court on a project to revise the Civil Procedure Rules. The Nova Scotia Barristers' Society is currently offering Desktop: Enhancing Access to Free Online Resources — one-on-one training in lawyers' offices to teach them how to use free online resources. Dalhousie Law School competes with other law schools across the country for the best first-year students, thanks to generous Law Foundation Scholarships.

We are pleased to announce funding for some new programs, including the East Coast Environmental Law Association [ECELA] and the Tri-County Community Justice Society. ECELA will provide legal information to individuals and organizations to ensure environmental laws are well understood and effectively used. ECELA will also conduct research and offer advice on how to improve environmental laws that affect this region. The Tri-County Community Justice Society is developing an innovative project in Yarmouth County involving a school-based disciplinary program using restorative justice methods and principles. We are also pleased that this year's revenue allowed a few small grants for one-time only infrastructure items such as new computers and furniture.

Research and reform of the law is the focus of three new projects that have received funding for next year. The Women's Innovative Justice Initiative will be studying specialized integrated courts to address domestic and sexual violence. Family Mediation Nova Scotia will design a pilot project to provide for child protection mediation in the province. Professors Chris Kaposy and Jocelyn Downie will analyze judicial reasoning in relation to reproductive choices.

In 2006–2007, the Board approved approximately $600,000 in special grants for small projects to be completed in 2007 – 2008. Several of the Foundation's ongoing grantees were able to carry out innovative projects as a result of this special funding.

In 2007 – 2008, the Board announced another major funding initiative – this time the focus was larger institutional grantees. A rigorous application and evaluation process resulted in the approval of five new grants:

- Dalhousie Law School A grant of $150,000 to start a fundraising campaign for an endowment to support the Dalhousie Legal Aid Clinic.
- •Dalhousie Law School A grant of $220,000 to assist with the renovation of two large class rooms on the second floor of the Weldon Law Building.
- •Nova Scotia Barristers' Society A grant of $100,000 for six initiatives to improve legal online services in the province.
- •Nova Scotia Community College A grant of $250,000 for awards to paralegal students (including endowed awards), updates to legal collections in campus libraries, and student field trips to law libraries.
- Pro Bono Students Society A grant of $84,290 to study existing pro bono services in Nova Scotia and the feasibility of expanding or building upon them.

We are excited about the potential benefits resulting from the new initiatives approved this year while remaining confident that established legal education and assistance programs will continue to address diverse needs across the province.

I would like to extend my thanks and appreciation to the members of the board and staff for their ongoing contributions and to welcome new members Josh Arnold, Estelle Theriault and Anna Paton. I especially want to thank Vice-Chair Jonathan Davies, who retired from the Board in February 2008, for his invaluable service since 2000.

Respectfully submitted,

Christine A. McCulloch, Q.C. Chair

OVERVIEW OF THE FOUNDATION

The Law Foundation of Nova Scotia was established in 1976 by amendment to the Barristers' and Solicitors' Act (now The Legal Profession Act). Its central purpose is to receive and distribute interest earned on lawyers' pooled trust accounts in accordance with its mandate.

Mandate

The objects of the Law Foundation are "to establish and maintain a fund to be used for the examination, research, revision and reform of and public access to the law, legal education, the administration of justice in the Province and other purposes incidental or conducive to or consequential upon the attainment of any such objects."

Administration

The Foundation is administered by a Board consisting of up to nine members. Up to five members are appointed by the Governor in Council and four by the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society. The members of the Board in 2007 – 2008 were:

Appointed by the Governor in Council: _

Jonathan F.L. Davies, Q.C. (retired February 2008) Christine A. McCulloch, Q.C. (term expires February 2010) Josh Arnold (term expires December 2008) M. Estelle Theriault, Q.C. (term expires May 2009) Anna Paton

(term expires February 2010)

Appointed by the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society: _

M. Gerard Tompkins, Q.C. (term expires August 2009) Robert G. MacKeigan, Q.C. (term expires August 2009) Margaret M. MacKenzie (term expires August 2008) A. Robert Sampson, Q.C. (term expires August 2008)

Chair, appointed from the members of the Board by the Governor in Council upon the joint recommendation of the Attorney General and the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society:

Christine A. McCulloch, Q.C. (Appointment as Chair expires February 2010)

The Board meets four times per year, and reviews grant applications at its February meeting. The Foundation employs two part-time staff members:

Kerry Oliver, Executive Director Kathy Samson, Executive Assistant

Revenue

The Law Foundation's ability to make grants depends on revenue generated primarily from interest on lawyers' pooled trust accounts. The Foundation keeps these funds invested until distribution. Trust account revenue fluctuates with the balances in the trust accounts and the prime rate of interest.

The prime rate remained stable at 6% from May 2006 until July 2007, when it rose to 6.25%. The rate dropped to 6% in December 2007 and then to 5.25% in March 2008. Since the rate remained high for most of the past fiscal year, revenue earned from interest on lawyers' trust accounts increased from $3,465,997 in 2006-2007 to $4,057,739 in 2007 - 2008. With the prime rate on the decline, the Foundation is predicting a significant drop in revenue in 2008 – 2009.

Reserve Fund

Fluctuations in the Foundation's income are reflected in the amount of money paid out in grants. A severe decline in the prime rate could force the Board to reduce or terminate grants. Because of these fluctuations, the Foundation established a reserve fund in 1986 to be used to maintain regular grants in periods of low interest rates when current income is insufficient to fund these grants.

At the beginning of this fiscal year, the reserve fund had a total cost of $3,537,957 and a market value of $4,117,591. As of March 31, 2008, it had a total cost and market value of $4,575,917 and $4,742,438. There was a deficiency of revenue over expenditures totaling $124,303. The main reason for this deficiency was the unrealized loss on investments of $413,112, due to the volatility in the U.S. market. Without this unrealized loss, there would have been an excess of revenue over expenditures totaling $288,809.

Funding Guidelines & Application Procedures

The Board strives to be accountable in the distribution of funds received by the Foundation from interest accruing on lawyers' pooled trust accounts. The Board endeavours to be transparent and consistent in its evaluation of applications. It takes into consideration where programs will operate and who will benefit from them, as well as whether they fit within the Foundation's mandate. Accountability extends to the careful assessment and consistent monitoring of programs that receive funding.

Information concerning the Foundation's funding guidelines and grant application procedure may be obtained by contacting the Executive Director, or by visiting the Foundation's website at www.nslawfd.ca.

GRANTS

Since its creation in 1976, the Foundation has received approximately $33 million in revenue from interest on lawyers' trust accounts, and has awarded approximately $29 million in grants. More than $2 million has also been awarded in scholarships during the past 16 years. These grants and scholarships have promoted improvements in the law, excellence within the profession, and have helped more than 250 organizations make the law more understandable and accessible to the public.

Continuing Program Grants

The Foundation awarded $1,917,600 in continuing program grants in 2007-2008. Continuing Program Grants are categorized according to the Foundation's four mandated objectives. Activities of many of the funded organizations fall under more than one of the objectives.

Breakdown by Mandate

Research and Reform	354,896
Public Access to Law	633,869
Legal Education	729,259
Administration of Justice	199,576
Total	$1,917,600

Project Grants

Increased trust account revenue resulting from higher interest rates allowed the Foundation to award $378,174.70 in project grants. Projects are an effective way to utilize revenue that fluctuates with the prime rate of interest because they generally have a defined time-frame, allowing for short-term funding.

Special Initiative Grants

The Board also announced a major funding initiative in 2007. The Board engaged in a thoughtful process to decide on the goals of this initiative and to develop a plan for the best use of available funds. Successful applicants were required to show that their projects would produce significant long-term results and be self-sustaining, in addition to meeting the Foundation's mandate. The Board awarded grants totaling $804,290 as a result of this special initiative.

Law Foundation Scholarship Fund

The Foundation established a trust fund in 1981 with an initial grant of $200,000 to provide scholarships to students attending Dalhousie Law School. There have been several contributions by the Law Foundation to the fund over the years. The fund provides scholarships valued at $13,000 for students entering first year, renewable in second and third years. The fund also provides fellowships at the graduate level.

The 2007 – 2008 Law Foundation Scholarships included four entrance scholarships, and a total of seven second-year and third-year scholarships. There was no graduate fellowship awarded. Scholarship payouts for the year amounted to $143,000.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To The Board of the Law Foundation of Nova Scotia

We have audited the statement of financial position of the Law Foundation of Nova Scotia as at March 31, 2008 and the statements of operations and changes in fund balances and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Foundation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

Except as explained in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

The Law Foundation of Nova Scotia derives substantially all of its revenue from interest credited by financial institutions on Nova Scotia Barristers' Society members' mixed trust funds which is not susceptible to complete audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of revenue from this source was limited to accounting for the amounts received from financial institutions and recorded in the records of the Law Foundation of Nova Scotia.

In our opinion, except for the effect of the adjustments, if any, had interest credited by financial institutions been susceptible to complete audit verification, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Foundation as at March 31, 2008 and the results of its operations, changes in fund balances and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.
