We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Law Foundation of Nova Scotia, which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2012, and the statement of operations, statement of changes in net assets for the general and restricted fund and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Basis for qualified opinion

The Law Foundation of Nova Scotia derives substantially all of its revenue from interest credited by financial institutions of Nova Scotia Barristers' Society members' mixed trust funds which is not susceptible to complete audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of revenue from this source was limited to accounting for the amounts received from financial institutions and recorded in the records of the Law Foundation of Nova Scotia.

Qualified opinion

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Law Foundation of Nova Scotia as at March 31, 2012, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Fund accounting

The Board has internally restricted funds to finance future operations of the Foundation. The net investment income earned on these assets is recorded in the restricted fund.

The general fund accounts for the Foundation's day-to-day activities which include the interest income on the lawyers' trust accounts, the interest income on the investments, less grants approved and paid, and the administrative expenses from running the Foundation.

Fair values

The Foundation's financial instruments consist of cash, prepaids, accrued interest receivable, investments, payables and accruals and designated grants payable.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

The fair values of cash, accrued interest receivable, prepaids, payables and accruals and designated grants payable are approximately equal to their carrying value due to their short-term maturity dates.

The investments are recorded at fair value as these values are readily available. Any adjustments recorded on these investments are recorded through the statements of operations.

Market risk

The Foundation is exposed to interest rate risk on its fixed-interest financial instruments and the interest revenue from the Trust accounts that have variable-interest based on prime. Fixed-interest instruments subject to the Foundation to a fair value risk while the variable-interest income stream subjects the Foundation to a cash flow risk.

3. Investments

The Foundation has an internally restricted fund totalling $2,848,553 (2011 - $3,595,105) represented by a portion of its investments for the purpose of covering continuing commitments should the Foundation not have sufficient resources to maintain its future grants. This amount includes accrued interest receivable of $15,794 (2011 - $12,482).

7. Capital disclosures

The Foundation's capital is comprised of the general and restricted fund balances. The restricted fund balance is an internally restricted fund which will be used to finance future operations of the Foundation. The Foundation's objectives when managing capital are to ensure the funds received are invested in such a manner that will sustain future grant payments regardless of the economic conditions in the marketplace. Furthermore, cash and investments are managed to ensure the financial obligations and objectives of the Foundation are met.

8. Future accounting standards changes

For fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2012, the Canadian Accounting Standards Board has issued Part III: Accounting Standards for Not-For-Profit Organizations (ASNPO) which is applicable for all not-for-profit organizations. Not-for-profit organizations maintain the option to adopt ASNPO or International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The Foundation is currently assessing the impact of the new standards on its financial statements.
